Regional planning challenged

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Despite objections from local communities, regional planning is an idea that can't be swept under the rug.

In a Nov. 8 report to members of the Conference of Western Wayne, Executive Director Daniel Gilmartin said the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments report on proposed regional planning "won't be put on a shelf or just go away." He advised representatives of the 18 member communities to become involved in future debates on the issue, and to make their input known.

"All communities will be well served to pay attention to this," said Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally, who serves as CWW chairwoman.

SECMOG has proposed a Regional Development Initiative, which would place future development decisions in the hands of a regional review board. The RDI seeks to require new growth, away from existing infrastructure, pay its own development costs. It also seeks to develop programs to improve social problems that contribute to urban sprawl.

On Oct. 17, SECMOG Director John Amberger made a presentation of the RDI draft to CWW members. Following the presentation, the SECMOG general assembly accepted the report and referred it to the executive committee.

Acceptance of the report was said to have "launched the beginning of a debate on urban sprawl."

"CWW communities, whether they are in support of or opposed to this project, are urged to join in the debate process. This report, if adopted, could lead to major changes in the way that developments are planned and implemented in this region," Gilmartin said. "It is of great importance that the CWW communities, individually or as a collection, make their voices heard with respect to the RDI report and its potential implementation."

Fire department adds advanced unit to life-saving inventory

Rescue units will soon have the ability to respond even more efficiently in any emergency situation in Romulus.

Starting Dec. 1, Romulus Firefighters will begin use of a new heavy duty rescue vehicle - a unit designed to offer the most important emergency equipment at greater convenience than ever before, according to Fire Chief William Greenslait.

"It allows us many more capabilities than we've ever had before and makes it all a little more convenient," Greenslait said.

The $80,000 rescue unit is replacing a 1979 GMC Van which, although it remains in top condition and has less than 15,000 miles on the odometer, is a little outdated.

"It's like we're moving from a Model T to a Cadillac," Greenslait said.

The new model is designed to allow eight passengers while the van had only a two-person capacity. It also carries a wide range of rescue items the van was not equipped to offer.

These items include: a cellular phone, two radios, four 500-watt lights which can be removed from the vehicle and set up on tripods, a 7,500 kilowatt generator and the most state-of-the-art jaws of life money can buy, Greenslait said.

Along with flashing red and white lights, a green light situated on the roof is an added advantage.

"It will allow the vehicle to become a command center which can be identified even when surrounded by the flashing lights of other vehicles."

The new rescue unit even has a reinforced roof so those in charge can stand up on it to observe what's going on below.

"From fire to flood, the city now handle any situation even better once the rescue unit arrives," Greenslait said. "It's simply more convenient and will allow us to get the job done more effectively than ever."

The rescue unit was budgeted and funded as a city expenditure. Although it arrived at the station at the end of October, each fireman is being required to have at least four hours of training in the new vehicle before the GMC van is completely phased out.

Greenslait expects to begin full use of the unit by the beginning of December.

"We were very fortunate to have the support of the mayor and her staff in getting this vehicle in our city. It will definitely be an asset to any type of emergency situation," he said.

upon one of the programs within the $1 million Integrated Learning System and students can learn such subjects as math, reading and language arts through the computer.

"They can work on their own or in small groups and can be taught many different subjects simultaneously," McPharlin said. "They can also be taught on the 33-inch monitor by their own teachers or one of the two full-time instructors from the producer of the ILS equipment, Jostens Learning Corporation of San Diego."

In addition to the time spent on a 'computer of their own' in this classroom, students are able to spend time on one of the five computers in each classroom at least once a day.

"I put each of my kids on the computer for 15 minutes twice a day and they love it and so do I," said Jeanette Amthor, a teacher of 19 years. "There's simply no other way to go."

Thirty-three-inch color monitors such as that currently in the CIAC room will also soon be installed in each classroom. That complete audio-visual system will contain a screen built into the wall and controlled by a push button pad which will allow teachers to call up the video they would like to show in advance. A technician in the "technology room" will be waiting to take requests and working to be sure all videos begin at the pre-scheduled time.

"This new technology puts us on the cutting edge of education," McPharlin said.

"It's a wonderful advancement and I'm excited for me and my students to be a part of it," said teacher Amthor.

Changes will continue to be made at Wick Elementary and Barth and Hale Creek elementary will be seeing technological advancements which should be completed by February of 1992.

said. "So far, we've received three letters."

Once the news of the closing is made public, Batty expects to hear from more people who will not like the idea of having to travel downtown to conduct court business.

Although the downtown court will assume more cases, Batty doesn't expect residents will have to wait longer to have their cases reviewed.

"Traveling downtown is not quite as convenient, but overall the public will be better served," Batty said.

Before the decision was made to close the annex, court officials conducted a study to determine if the closing would have a negative effect on the way cases are handled. Court officials decided to conduct the study after the state legislators reduced the budget by 9.2 percent.

"The study began in late spring," Batty said. "We looked at the case loads and how they are handled, who are the clients who are served and the types of work activities that are being conducted."

During 1990, the annex staff reviewed 2,700 new divorce cases. They also reviewed more than 17,000 support compliance cases which included alimony and child support payments not being made to the court. The downtown court reviewed 48,000 similar cases last year. Annex employees were also responsible for issue orders, and verifying records for 12,000 cases, Batty said.

The downtown court is located in the Cadillac Tower Building at 65 Cadillac Square.

Romulus schools. "Supposedly, this is something like the way school is run in Germany,"

But Bedell doesn't think it can work in the United States.

"First of all, there aren't enough businesses to put that many children into apprenticeship programs," he said. "Our economy just isn't stable enough to do something like this - jobs are hard to get and I just can't see businesses hiring our students just for these vocational programs."

"We have 60 businesses in Michigan that work with the schools in partnerships for education and they have told us they just want us to produce responsible kids who can arrive at work on time and with a good attitude," Bedell continued. "They didn't say the kids had to already know how to do the job."

"If they could change the legislation a little to find better ways to fund this program and maybe to have kids working less hours, maybe it could work but I can't imagine how the bill could work as it is."

He said that although many did oppose the idea, others thought it was a feasible notion.

He believes the House and Senate will soon be voting on the bill, and expects results by the end of the year.

Students stung by 'Reunions' failure

By KEVIN LITWIN
ANP Staff Writer

High school reunion committees from throughout the metropolitan Detroit area, including those from the 1981 class of Plymouth-Salem High and the 1986 Romulus High School class have apparently fallen victim to an Illinois company that specializes in organizing class reunions.

Various reunion chairpersons were informed this week that REUNIONS, A Class Organization, Inc., from Hoffman Estates, Illinois, was out of business. The office that REUNIONS supposedly occupied in Hoffman Estates is vacant, and the business phone number is no longer in operation. All bank accounts have been emptied.

REUNIONS sent letters to area high schools earlier this year advertising their services in the organization of class reunions. The letter stated that committee members of the high schools contacted were to get in touch with their respective alumni, informing each alumnist to send $40 to REUNIONS. The company would then take care of the organization and all costs involved with staging the reunion.

A total of 130 Plymouth-Salem graduates sent $40 each to REUNIONS, totaling $5,200. REUNIONS was to make arrangements for the rental hall, food, decorations and music. But the only arrangement the company made was to send a $300 deposit to the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth to reserve the hall for the Nov. 29 Salem reunion.

Last week, committee members from the various reunion planning committees throughout metro Detroit received a letter from Howard R. Korenthal, assignee for the benefit of creditors of REUNIONS. The letter stated that REUNIONS was out of business.

The address on the letter states that Korenthal is from Assets Recovery Services, Inc., P.O. Box 2249, Glenview, IL 60025-2249. The Glenview, IL directory shows that no such post office box exists.

There are 28 class reunions in November at high schools in the Detroit area that were supposed to have been organized by REUNIONS, and many more that were booked for the upcoming months.

Silver Sounds Professional D.J. of Canton has donated services to try and help any people who have questions about the reunions. Graduates from any of the high schools involved who many have questions can phone Silver Sounds at 454-5424.

"We feel bad for the communities who were associated with REUNIONS," said Nick

We feel bad for the communities who were associated with Reunions.

— Nick Kulka
vice president

Kulka, vice president of operations for Silver Sounds. "In fact, we are going to volunteer five hours of music for the Plymouth-Salem reunion free of charge."

"I talked to a lawyer about this and he said that for the letter to be a bankruptcy document, the signer of the letter (Korenthal) has to be a trustee for federal bankruptcy court for their actions to be legal. This Mr. Korenthal simply states that he is an assignee. REUNIONS just took off," Kulka said during a news conference Thursday.

Authorities have not been able to contact Korenthal, who has no listing in the Hoffman Springs directory or the surrounding area.

The Illinois Better Business Bureau says that they have no information about REUNIONS.

Linda Shapona, director of the Canton Chamber of Commerce, is willing to consolidate any complaints into one letter to send to the Illinois Attorney General, and to various newspapers in the Hoffman Estates and Glenview areas. Shapona can be contacted at 453-4040.

Kulka encourages committee chairpersons for the various high schools to call the Illinois Attorney General at 312-443-4600 to see if anything can be done about the situation.

Kulka also advises that any alumnist who paid $40 to REUNIONS by credit card to contact his or her credit card company. There is a 60-day grace period on all charges if they are found to be associated with anything fraudulent, but there is a strict, written procedure that must be followed that the credit card companies will explain.

Any further questions about the Plymouth-Salem class of 1981 reunion can be addressed by Alison (Nagy) Ellingson at 425-5906.

"Thanks to Silver Sounds D.J. and the Mayflower (the hall that is dismissing the balance of rental payment), our reunion Nov. 29 will take place," said Ellingson. "The only thing we have to come up with is money for food. We might have to have pizza instead of full chicken dinners as previously planned, but the evening should be great."

Picking up the beat

Romulus High School is offering a program so unique it has students dancing in the aisles.

For the first time in history, Romulus students are being offered the opportunity to elect a class called Creative Dance.

"It's a course designed to allow them the opportunity to express themselves through movement," said instructor Judith Thompson.

Conceived by Principal Thomas Dolan, the course was developed by Thompson who has 35 years experience in dance.

"Principal Dolan came to me and said we need to do something with the students who have formed after-school dance groups so we did," Thompson said. "And from what I've heard, they're loving it."

The course was offered to students in ninth through 12th grade and although attendance is low in this first semester, it is expected to increase.

"I think anyone who wants to gain confidence in the expression of their body needs to think about taking the course," Thompson said. "It could open pathways to a world these kids never even knew existed."

Weather prophets eye signs of cold, snow

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Will Belleville area residents shiver through a snowy, frosty winter, or will we again breeze through a milder-than-normal season?

Those looking for an answer must decide between a forecast of cold, wet winter from Metro Airport meteorologists and the Old Farmer's Almanac prediction of a milder-than-normal winter with below normal snowfalls. Area experts are divided on the reliability of the signs of nature, and Van Buren Township Recreation Director Michael Long always predicts heavy snowfall to boost participation in his cross-country skiing and sledding programs. Unfortunately, or perhaps fortunately, Long's predictions of cold, snowy weather have fallen short.

In 200th edition of the almanac, it is predicted that November through March will be milder than normal, particularly in the eastern part of the southern Great Lakes region in which the lower peninsula of Michigan is located.

"Mild periods will be interspersed with cold spells in November and December with heavy rains in early November and snows at Thanksgiving and Christmas. January may see thaws before and after mid-month with seasonable cold other times. Snow fall will be near normal in the west (section of the region), but below normal east," the almanac summary predicted. Bob Wittersheim, superviing naturalist at the Oakwoods Metropark, doesn't believe in the ability of wolly worms to predict the severity of the approaching season. Neither does he hold much faith in the television weathermen's long range predictions.

Leilani Babcock, owner of Winterlong Stables in Sumpter Township, has received hints of what to expect this winter from the horses she boards and the wolly worms.

"Usually by this time, the horses' coats are thick, but they're not this year. In fact, some of the horses are still shedding, which could indicate that we'll have a warm winter," Babcock said. "If the wolly worms have a lot of black on them, it's supposed to indicate a long winter. This year, there's just a tip of black on the wolly worms that I've seen, which should mean that we are in for a mild winter."

Landscape architect Keith Bruder of Belleville, reported that he has observed wolly worms with small black bands and others with very wide black bands this fall.

"I guess the wolly worms aren't sure about the weather this winter either," said Bruder.

Student trips open for eligible teens

Eligible high school students can spend the 1992-93 academic year or a summer holiday in Europe or Mexico while learning about the culture and language of the host country.

"Until a few years ago, only a fortunate few could afford to spend a school year of summer abroad," said Corinne Channing, midwestern region director for ASSE International. "Now, qualified students can spend an academic year or summer holiday in Scandinavia, Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland, Britain, Holland, Spain, Mexico, New Zealand or Canada as part of the ASSE International Student Exchange Program."

Students, 15 to 18 years old, can qualify on the basis of academic performance, character references and a genuine desire to experience life abroad with a volunteer host family, Channing said.

"ASSE families abroad are carefully screened to provide a caring environment in which students can learn the language and culture of their host

Legislators propose laws to halt scams

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Although legislation is pending to curb phony police and fire department solicitations, unscrupulous callers are still preying on area residents. Residents of western Wayne County, as well as police and fire officials throughout the state, have registered complaints about phone solicitors who falsely claim to represent local police and fire departments.

"House Bill 4396, which would regulate the solicitation practices of law enforcement organizations is seeing action this fall," said Rep. James Kosteva, D-37.

If passed, the proposed legislation would require professional fund-raising businesses to disclose financial information to potential contributors before soliciting a donation. The legislation also would prohibit uniformed officers, often viewed as intimidating, from collecting door-to-door donations.

"The bill was introduced last year, and there were lengthy discussions about it," said the Canton Township representative. "The bill has the support of the Deputy Sheriffs Association of Michigan, the Police Officers Association of Michigan, the Michigan State Police Troopers Association and the Michigan Association of Police Chiefs."

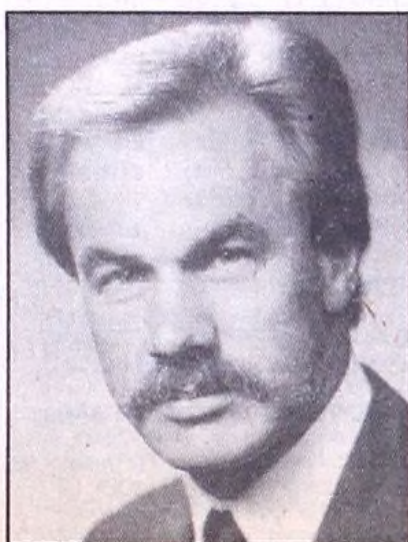

Belleville Police Chief Willard Dockter, a member of the MAPC, has been a long-time opponent of the solicitation scams and has called for legislation to regulate solicitors for the past several years.

Dockter noted that local departments do not use "boiler room" solicitors to collect donations, and those who claim to collect money for area police and fire department projects are misrepresenting themselves.

"Check before you write a check," Dockter advised, noting that local police departments and chambers of commerce have information on current phone scams.

House Bill 4396 would regulate the solicitation of contributions by or on behalf of public safety organizations, meaning those composed of current or former law enforcement officers, firefighters or correctional officers. To solicit or receive funds, organizations and professional fund-raisers would have to register with the attorney general.

In contact with potential contributors, certain disclosures would have to be made and certain misrepresentations would be explicitly forbidden. Telephone solicitors would have to be recorded, and the caller would have to state whether he or she was a sworn public safety ty officer and a member of the organizations soliciting the funds.

In-person solicitors would have to be made by organization members wearing civilian clothing and the solicitor would be forbidden from collecting contributions.

Violations of the bill would be subject to civil fines and remedies similar to those under the Consumer Protection Act. A persistent and knowing violation of the act would be subject to a civil fine up to $5,000. Violation of an injunction order, decree or judgement issued under the bill would be subject to a fine of up to $500 per violation, according to the proposed legislation.

"Unscrupulous phone solicitors are continuing to use schemes to obtain donations from area residents," said Van Buren Public Safety Director Mark Perkins, who supports the passage of legislation to curb the scams. "They use all kinds of reasons for soliciting funds, and they misrepresent themselves as police officers or firefighters. We are not conducting any telephone fund drives for either the police or fire departments."

Police and firefighters in Belleville, Van Buren Township, Sumpter Township and Romulus report similar incidents with solicitors misrepresenting themselves as local public safety representatives. Chiefs of the local departments ask residents to report any unauthorized solicitations that they may receive.

The solicitors vary their speeches, but usually claim to represent local police or fire departments and often request donations for non-existent programs. If some of the donations are passed along to legitimate charities, a large portion of the money is retained by the group soliciting the funds. For example, one solicitor donated a few safety vests to police officers across the state, but local officers for whom the solicitors claimed to benefit, did not receive any equipment from the donations, according to the Belleville police chief.

TRAVEL TIPS

Hawaii means different things to different people; to some it represents the peace and serenity of the neighbor islands and to others its main appeal is the never ending variety of things to do and see on Waikiki.

Waikiki is a constant hub of activity and a visitor never lacks for something to do. There are countless hotels, both beach front and a block or more away, with prices just as variable. Restaurants ranging from fast food to gourmet abound all over Honolulu including many excellent hotel restaurants.

A fine public transportation system includes buses which run the length of Waikiki and can get you to most tourist attractions quickly and inexpensively. However, if you're staying anywhere near the heart of town, you can walk just about anywhere. It's also perfectly acceptable to walk from a hotel a few blocks away to the beach wearing your bathing suit and a cover-up.

Among the most famous and luxurious hotels in Honolulu are the Royal Hawaiian, the Halekulani, the Hilton Hawaiian Village, the Sheraton Waikiki, the newly renovated Moana Waikiki, the Hyatt and, a bit away from city center, the Kahala Hilton which has always appealed to the rich and famous but accepts mere mortals as guests also. All are beachfront hotels.

If your idea of the perfect vacation means palm trees, deluxe hotels, great variety in dining and sightseeing and easy access to all of them, Honolulu might be the place for you.

Wines make an elegant Christmas gift for anyone

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Each year just prior to the start of the holiday season, two Belleville party store owners host a wine and cheese party to acquaint their customers with the variety of beverages available for gifts and entertaining. "We invite our wine distributors here to provide information to our guests," said Ray Aho of Hayward's Party Store. "They provide information which wines to select for holiday entertaining and offer samples to help them with their selections."

The Belleville party store features the largest selection of Michigan wines in the area plus a variety of party trays, food items and gift baskets.

"People look forward to our annual party for entertaining and gift ideas. We feel it is a way to make holiday gift giving a much easier task this season," added Jeff Haisha, who noted that wines and gift baskets are growing in popularity with corporate accounts as well as individuals.

Party guests Willard Dockter and Gerry Priest looked over an assortment of Chardonnays and sparkling wines, and Dr. Richard and Janet Muse made selections from among several white wines.

Robert Mucciante, representative of L&L Wine World, said two-bottle and four-bottle gift packages are popular gift items this season.

"People are becoming more discriminating in their choices of wines," Mucciante said. "Often, when people are first introduced to wine, they sample the so-called jug wines. As their appreciation for wine increases, they tend to purchase premium wines instead."

Mucciante served an Asti Spumante wine to Aho, who acknowledged that the sparkling wine is one of his personal favorites.

The wine experts noted that often American table wines have been labeled Burgundy, Chianti, Rhine and Sauterne after their European counterparts, but varieties of the same type of wine differ greatly. For example, one Rhine wine may be quite sweet, while another could be acidic.

To help to correctly identify the wine, they are named after the variety of grape used. The labeling of such wines, called varietals, provides a better guide as to what to expect of the wine, and usually only selected grapes are used.

The following wines are ones that consumers will find on the shelves of party stores:

- Cabernet Sauvignon, one of five grape varieties used in making the red wines of Bordeaux and a similar, but distinctively different, one in California.

- Green Hungarian, a grape from which a light wine which ranges from very dry to medium sweet.

- Johannisberg Riesling, a grape from which a white wine is made. The name comes from the Schloss Johannisberg vineyards.

- Catawba, a native grade that makes a sweet white or pink wine.

- Sauvignon Blanc, a grape used in making sweet, white wine.

- Zinfandel, of undertermined origin, is among the most popular of the reds.

- Concord, a native American grape used for sweet kosher-type wines.

According to Aho and Haisha, a selection of wines for a party could include a selection of Chablis, Rose, Rhinegarten, Zinfandel and Burgundy. To accompany the wines, feta, muenster, Swiss and feta cheeses can be served.

Sparkling wines create a party atmosphere, the store owners said. A variety of Asti Spumante, Sparkling Beaujolais, California Champagne and Sparkling Chardonnay can be served to create a festive mood.

"We can help hosts and hostesses to select foods to complement their buffets or parties," Aho said. "We have dozens of different types of mustard, for example. We also have a large variety of cheese, jams and jellies."

Holiday cooking can be breeze

By AMANDA WILSON
ANP Staff Writer

When it comes to Christmas parties, most hosts experience the 'so much to do, so little time to do it' syndrome.

But it doesn't have to be that way.

If you're overrun by things to do this holiday season, how about putting the burden of planning a Christmas party into the hands of experts?

Caterers from western Wayne County are ready, willing and able to take care of party needs. In fact, the biggest decision you'll have to make is which one to choose?

Although few make the traditional Christmas cookie, most do serve something that could suit your needs - it just takes a little research.

"When looking for a caterer, one needs to ask about availability, prices, the size of the portion and professional service," said Evelyn Bramble,

Adult games are popular holiday entertainment

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Suburban Editor

With the holidays just around the corner, many people are planning their parties now which includes finding just the right entertainment devices to keep the guests happy.

Karaoke remains very popular in the 1990s. Even the closet and shower singers have been searching for the best clubs or lounges which offer karaoke, according to Dawn Sutton of Sterling Division Entertainment of Plymouth, one of the agencies that supply Karaoke musical programs and disc jockeys throughout the state.

"People see others sing, and they're not afraid to try it themselves," Sutton said. "They enjoy the singing so much that at times we have a difficult time stopping at the end of the evening."

Miniature karaoke devices can be found in several specialty shops in the mall such as the Sharper Image.

Other devices to keep the guests entertained include adults games. A popular board game dealing with power, money and property that dates back as far as the Great Depression is still the hottest game on the market today.

Monopoly has what it takes to be the number one best selling game, according to Arnie Van, assistant Director of Toys-R-Us in Westland.

"Normally the newer the game, the hotter it'll be, but this isn't the case with Monopoly," Van said. "Games that have been around a while and are old favorites usually are a good seller. If you're familiar with a game you tend to stick with it."

Another adult game which is already selling like hotcakes for the holiday season is Scattergories. Players are assigned a category and have to name as many items as possible within the limits of a time, according to Don Csont, director of Westland Toys-R-Us.

"This is a group game and a lot of fun from an adult standpoint," Csont said. "A lot of times games become hot with adults because they see it advertised as the 'in' game to play. They want it for hosting parties or to play with friends."

Trivial Pursuit and Win, Lose or Draw were formerly at the top of the popularity list for games. Now, Win, Lose or Draw isn't even in the top 100.

"The hot games take over and slow down the sales for other games. It doesn't mean they're not selling," Van said. "Every year there's a different hot game. It all depends on what time of the year it is and what's being advertised heavily. The games you've been exposed to are top in your mind."

Old games such as Monopoly and new games such as Trivial Pursuit-the movies, continue to be popular for parties.

Holiday mailing deadlines approach

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Staff Writer

Yes, it's that time of year again to start thinking about sending those holiday gifts abroad before it's too late.

United States Postmaster Lloyd Wesley has some helpful postal tips for western Wayne County residents.

"The sooner customers give us their mail for international destinations, the quicker we can arrange for its transportation abroad," Wesley said.

Mail that goes abroad by surface transportation is less expensive for the mailer but, for obvious reasons, takes longer to reach its destination. To ensure timely delivery, it must be deposited much earlier than airmail, according to Wesley.

Parcels destined for military personnel and families can be sent by air most economically by Parcel Airlift Mail and Space Available Mail.

"Packages weighing up to 30 pounds and measuring 60 inches in combined length and girth may be sent to military addresses by PAL," Wesley said.

These packages are airlifted domestically to a United States gateway facility, then sent by air on a space available basis to an APO (Army or Air Force Post Office) or an FPO (Fleet Post Office) for delivery to the addressee.

The mailer pays only the regular domestic parcel post rate to the gateway postal center, plus airmail postage of 30 cents for parcels weighing up to two pounds, 60 cents for 2-to-3-pound parcels, 90 cents for 3-to-4 pounds and $1.20 for those weighing 4 to 30 pounds.

SAM may be used for mailing parcels up to 15 pounds and 60 inches in combined length and girth to military addresses overseas at regular parcel post rates, Wesley said.

"SAM mail is transported domestically to gateway facilities by surface vehicle, then flown to its destination abroad on a space available basis," Wesley said.

Overseas deadlines for surface mail are: Alaska-Nov. 1, Australia-Nov. 15, Caribbean-Nov. 1, Greenland-Oct. 25, Middle East-Nov. 1, Southeast Asia-Nov. 8, Central America-Nov. 1 and South America-Nov. 1.

Overseas deadlines for air parcels are: Africa-Nov. 18, Alaska-Dec. 6, Australia-Dec. 2, Caribbean-Dec. 6, Europe-Dec. 2, Far East-Dec. 2, Greenland-Dec. 2, Hawaii-Dec. 9, Middle East-Nov. 15, Southeast Asia-Dec. 2, Central America-Dec. 2 and South America-Dec. 1.

Cater

catering specialist with Leright's Catering of Westland. "In some cases, it may even be good to ask for references."

She suggests talking with friends or associates who have had catering done. Perhaps asking them how satisfied they really were with the food as well as the service could put your mind at ease and assure you that your party will be a success.

Before you call, though, it may be best to have in mind pretty much what you're looking for in a party. For example, how many people should be there? Would you like to pick the location or have it done in a rented hall? Would you like to just have hors d'oeuvres, or a full-course, homestyle meal? If you decide on a meal, Leright's, like many local caterers offers a variety of entrees to choose from. Their specialty, broasted chicken, and a variety of holiday pies.

Many of the other caterers have about the same menus in mind, most including some type of chicken, meatballs, New York strip steak, veal parmesan, chicken cordon bleu or baked scrod all served with your choice of potato, vegetable, roll and butter and beverage - the biggest difference being price range. And that's up to the host.

Just remember, they're supposed to be there to serve you and you do have the right to ask for references.

And if that becomes too much of a hassle, there are many holiday cookbooks out nowadays that offer inexpensive and delicious recipes that could be whipped up fairly quickly especially with a little help from some friends.

Pearl Harbor survivors remembered on Nov. 11

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Honors for those who survived the day of infamy a half century ago were presented on Veterans Day by Congressman William Ford.

In the early morning hours of Dec. 7, 1941, the Japanese attacked the American base at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, killing 2,400 and wounding some 180 others in the two-hour attack. On the 50th anniversary of that attack, Congress authorized the casting of medals to honor the servicemen who survived the attack, and ceremonies around the country are slated to honor those individuals.

During a Nov. 11 ceremony at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Harris Kehr Post 3323 in Westland, Ford presented medals to 14 Pearl Harbor survivors. Relatives of two other servicemen, who have since died, also received the Pearl Harbor Survivors medals.

"We heard about it on the radio, and reports were sketchy. There were no newsreels and no CNN to tell the story," Ford said, recalling that many people were fearful that the West Coast would be bombed.

"There were no political arguments about World War II. People thought 'we're in it now and we're going to win it.' Everyone on Sunday and Monday listened to the radio with their families. They heard the President say that this 'date will live in infamy' when he called upon Congress to declare war," Ford said. "It was the first and last time in the century that people were so determined to do what they had to do. Americans were never closer than at that time."

Ford talked about the subsequent arms and equipment manufacturing boom in the Detroit area which earned the title, "Arsenal of Democracy."

Honored in the ceremony were Pearl Harbor survivors:

- Westland resident Archibald Bannerman Jr., U.S. Army, who was on his way back to his barracks from breakfast when the attack began.

Legislators seek curbs on scams

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Although legislation is pending to curb phony police and fire department solicitations, unscrupulous callers are still preying on area residents. Residents of western Wayne County, as well as police and fire officials throughout the state, have registered complaints about phone solicitors who falsely claim to represent local police and fire departments.

"House Bill 4396, which would regulate the solicitation practices of law enforcement organizations is seeing action this fall," said Rep. James Kosteva, D-37.

If passed, the proposed legislation would require professional fund-raising businesses to disclose financial information to potential contributors before soliciting a donation. The legislation also would prohibit uniformed officers, often viewed as intimidating, from collecting door-to-door donations.

Belleville Police Chief Wilard Dockter, a member of the MAPC, has been a long-time opponent of the solicitation scams and has called for legislation to regulate solicitors for the past several years.

Dockter noted that local departments do not use "boiler room" solicitors to collect donations, and those who claim to collect money for area police and fire department projects are misrepresenting themselves.

"Check before you write a check," Dockter advised, noting that local police departments and chambers of commerce have information on current phone scams.

tioned aboard the USS Nevada when the ship was hit.

• Westland resident Paul Valyasek, U.S. Army, who had been on guard at the northern end of island when the attack began.

• Wayne resident Nathan Weiser, U.S. Army Air Corps, who had planned to go aboard the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Lexington, but found it had already left port.

Also honored were Miles Brickey, U.S. Army; Guiseppe Carlini, U.S. Marines; Benjamin Dorotinsky, U.S. Navy; Earl Johnson, U.S. Navy; James Kegley, U.S. Navy; Richard Morey, U.S. Army; William Norrow, U.S. Navy; Chester O'Konski, U.S. Marine Corps, and Walter Wojtysiak. Medals were presented to Audrey Byrd for her deceased brother, Leroy Manning, and to Dorothy Wilson of Wayne, for her deceased husband, Jackson Wilson.

Ford presented flags and caps to each Pearl Harbor survivor.

Task force praised

During the past few weeks the protests at the Cracker Barrel Restaurant in Van Buren Township have cooled off. Although the chilly temperatures may have contributed to the downturn in demonstrations, the major factor in the current peace is the manner in which local officials and the Mutual Aid Pact communities rallied to preserve the peace.

The protests began in late September with a core group of demonstrators who carried banners opposing what they termed as discriminatory hiring practices against homosexuals. Soon, the group was joined by people waving the banners of the Revolutionary Workers Party. Other radical groups joined in the weekly demonstrations, and the protests seem to lose their original focus. Instead of an orderly petition for an anti-discriminatory policy by the restaurant chain, the demonstrations turned nasty - obscene comments were hurled at patrons and police officers, sexual acts were simulated by the protestors and finally assaults were made on police and a patron.

Observers witnessed the constant baiting of police officers in what seemed to be blatant attempts to provoke incidents. However, the officers maintained their professionalism while being spat upon and assailed with obscene remarks and gestures.

The protests, which could have turned into major media circuses, were not fueled by the township officials, the local police departments or the Mutual Aid Pact backup which responded to the call for aid. Cameras focused on the police from every angle, obviously in the hope that a "Rodney King-type incident" could be recorded for the front pages or 11 o'clock news.

To their credit, the Mutual Aid Pact officers from the 18 western Wayne County communities, the mounted unit of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and the Michigan State Police kept the peace while preserving the rights of the protestors to peacefully assemble. For several weeks, local police officers walked the tightrope between the rights of a company to conduct business, the rights of customers to patronize a place of business and the rights of a group to assemble. It was not an easy task, but one which they fulfilled with the highest degree of restraint and professionalism.

In addition to providing the manpower to preserve the peace, each city and township dipped into its own budget to pay the cost of maintaining their officers.

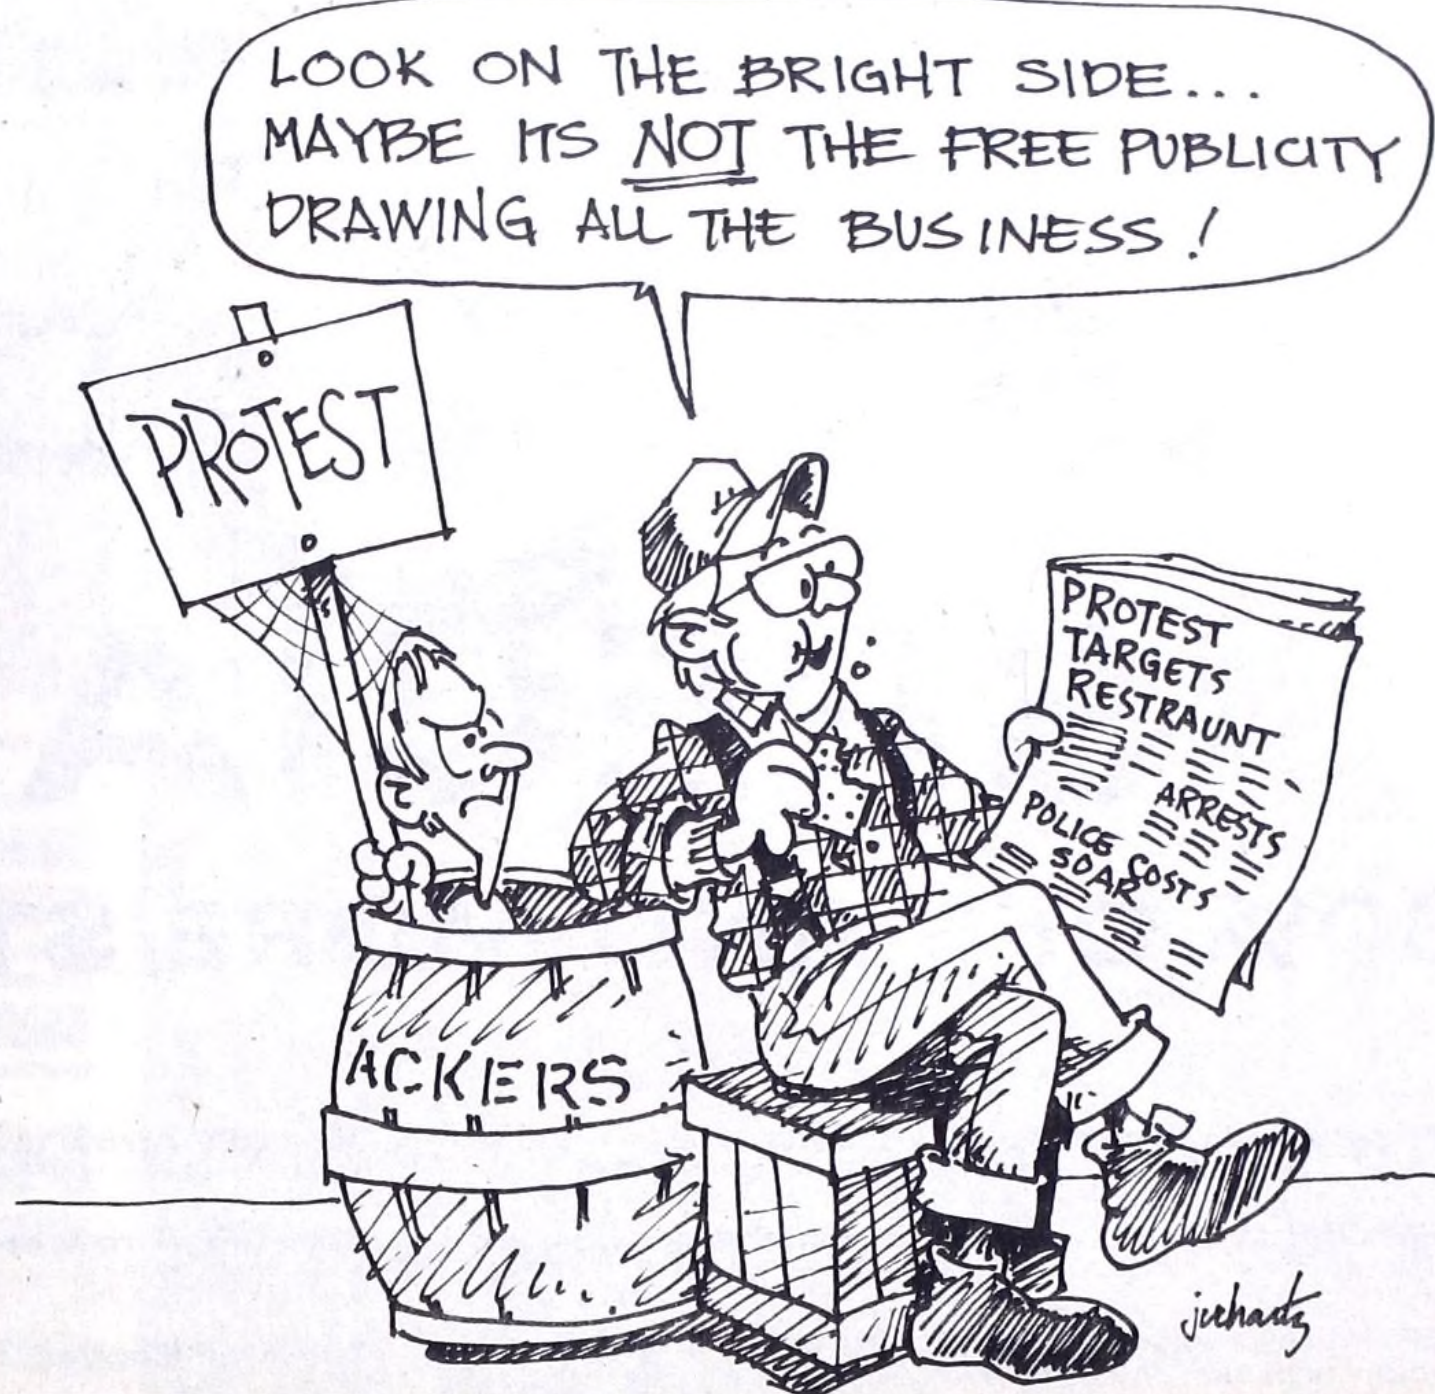

For some communities, the cost of being a good neighbor has been an expensive one, but one that is necessary to maintain the integrity of the Mutual Aid Pact. Today, it may be Van Buren Township that requires aid, but tomorrow it could be Wayne, Westland, Canton Township, Inkster, Romulus, Belleville, Sumpter Township or one of the other member communities.

No one in our local communities knows when there will be a natural disaster, a major fire, plane crash or riot. None of the member communities has the resources to keep 100 trained policemen and 20 command officers on standby. It is doubtful that each community could maintain its own mounted and canine units to be held in reserve until the situation required their use.

However, Van Buren Township and each of the remaining 17 western Wayne County communities has all of the resources of the Mutual Aid pact communities at its disposal when an emergency occurs.

Plainly put, Mutual Aid has proven its worth as an "insurance policy" for its members. It may not seem important until an emergency arises. It may even seem like a costly expense to some, but when an emergency arises and the need for trained, professional manpower is required, there is nothing to compare with the "return on the policy."

We congratulate the Mutual Aid Pact officers on a job well done, and we feel more secure to know that you are waiting in the wings should another emergency situation occur.

Resident opposes school millage

To the editor:

"... the school is the one common institution that touches every American for a long and extremely important period of his life. He is in a controlled environment which can be manipulated for the social good." (Emphasis added).

These are the opening words of the doctoral dissertation of Dennis J. O'Neill, quoted from W.A. Hunt's Psychology in Schools, submitted to Wayne State University, and practiced upon the people in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools during the past four millage elections.

Citizens of the school district who were manipulated to vote for passage of the unneeded millage ought to be outraged enough to demand his immediate resignation or removal from office.

Students who were victims of pay-for-play and their parents ought to demand and get their money back from the $4.4 million surplus reported by the auditors.

Teachers and other employees who were laid-off ought to demand and get a pound of his flesh for the money which was stolen from them and their children during their unemployment ment year of 1990-91.

Junior high students who had 200 hours of instruction stolen from them can never be repaid for their loss. Neither can the elementary students be compensated for their loss of expressive arts learning for the whole year.

What is even more vicious and intentional in this whole fiasco is that this committee repeatedly told the community that the superintendent and his financial wizards were trying to hide the $6.7 million in the Special Revenue Fund while denying its existence.

Those stunned school board members can play dumb all they want, but they were told the same information. They would not believe it, but chose to be blindly led by those who purposed to manipulate them for their own purposes. That's what the recall is about.

What needs to be done now is to remove the manipulator from his office immediately, and appoint an inside interim superintendent, who knows what has been going on and has the courage and the stomach to clean out the cancer which has entwined itself around the vital organs of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

It is time for this community to unite and declare that incompetent, malevolent, and dishonest manipulators be replaced by those with integrity who will put the education of its students ahead of their control of the community's environment.

Customer lauds restaurant

To the editor:

I am writing this letter to give recognition to the owners of Wendy's Old Fashioned Hamburgers located at 2181 Rawsonville Road, Belleville, Doug Spohn and Doug Wellings.

Several months ago, these two men purchased the mentioned franchise and succeeded in turning the store into one of the most pleasant and customer-service oriented Wendy's that I have ever been in. I chose to frequent their store almost on a daily basis due to the friendliness of the owners and staff, the cleanliness of the establishment and the speed with which I was served. Because I was a "regular", the staff knew exactly what I wanted (down to the detail of two lemons on the lid of the soft drink I ordered), and proceeded to have it ready within literally seconds after I arrived at the counter.

Please see to it that the owners and their staff receive the recognition that they truly deserve by mentioning this in your newspaper. I think that others in Belleville would like to also frequent a restaurant where the customer is "King" or "Queen." I have very recently moved to Maryland, but just prior to my move, the owners gave me an unexpected going away surprise. To my surprise they had a lovely card (signed by all of the staff), and a delicious cake from a local bakery.

I sure hope that I find a Wendy's to frequent here, in Frederick, MD, like the one that I won't forget in a million years.

Every vote counts

To the editor:

With friends like Glenn Shaw Jr., it is obvious that (Tom Artley) does not need any enemies. It is also obvious to me that if Glenn Shaw cannot totally control you and your council vote, then he considers you an enemy. Keep up your independent vote.

Phillips scores 3TDs in 4th quarter as Robichaud survives preregional

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

All good things come to those who wait.

And for three years Robichaud football coach Bob Yauck has waited patiently for Gary Phillips to flex his muscles on the gridiron. On Saturday, Yauck's patience paid off.

Phillips scored three touchdowns in the final quarter to orchestrate the defending Class B state champ's 21-8 victory over state-ranked Detroit Country Day in a pre-regional finals staged at the Yellow Jackets' field on Saturday.

"Gary came into his own on Saturday," said Yauck of his 6-3, 208-pound senior. "We needed him and, he responded."

Yauck switched Phillips from fullback to tailback and the switch obviously paid off. Phillips rushed for 232 yards on 16 carries and scored on runs of one, 53 and 64-yards.

The victory, Robichaud's 21st in its last 22-games, qualified the Bulldogs for Saturday's regional game against Grosse Ile. The Islanders stayed alive with a 28-12 upset victory over regional favorite, Imlay City.

"They're tough," says Yauck of his regional opponent. "They have the speed and the skills to beat you. Our kids know they have a tough game ahead of them."

Regional stat sheet

Who: Robichaud (9-1) vs. the Islanders of Grosse Ile (8-2)
Where: at Robichaud High School at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 16
What's at stake: The Class B regional championship and a berth in the Class B state semifinals that will be staged on Nov. 23.

Robichaud is the host for the 1:20 p.m. Saturday game.

Detroit Country Day, ranked eighth in the state before the Yellow Jackets took to the field, drew first-blood when all-state candidate Fred Scott hauled in a 16-yard pass in the end zone from quarterback

Seth Shilling midway in the second quarter. Then, with Jeff Fogle's two-point conversion, the hosts had an 8-0 lead.

Defense was the name of the game until Phillips ignited his team. With 10:38 on the clock in the final quarter, the senior tailback plunged over from the one to give the Bulldogs their first TD of the game. He then scored the two-point conversion with an off-tackle run.

Suddenly the game was tied at 8-all. Phillips, thanks to some playbook blocking by Alex White, Jamal Bohannon and Eddie Lawrence, slashed the knot with a stunning run, again off tackle, for 53-yards and the go-ahead touchdown. That score came with 7:52 remaining in the game.

Phillips again came through for the Bulldogs as he kicked the extra point, making it 15-8.

DCC's efforts of retaliation were frustrated by a determined Bulldog defense and Kevin Bradley, who picked off two passes that killed off serious Yellow Jack threats.

After an exchange of downs, Phillips again put on an incredible display of open field running when he picked up a mishandled exchange from center and raced 64-yards for a touchdown. That TD is the longest score of the season for a Bulldog ball carrier.

Yauck had nothing but praise for his team.

"DCC is an excellent team," Yauck commented. "Our kids could have given up but they didn't. This team is definitely set upon carrying out the Robichaud tradition. They have a mission to fulfill."

And is there anyone who doubts that Robichaud will not fulfill that mission?

Sebestyen scores for Broncos

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A former Plymouth Salem soccer standout continues to star on the college scene.

Freshman Joe Sebestyen a member of the Western Michigan University soccer team, collected his first point as a member of the Broncos as he drilled a goal in last Sunday's 3-2 victory over Michigan.

Sebestyen kicked in the second goal of the contest.

Sebestyen has played in 12 of the Broncos' 16 games this season and, although in his freshmen year, has worked his way into the starting lineup.

Sebestyen's teammates Chris and Todd LaJoy, both freshmen who also hail from Canton Township and are also former Salem players. They have played in 11 and nine games, respectively.

Chris has one goal for two points.

Western was scheduled to close the 1991 campaign at the Mid-American Cup Championships in Bowling Green, Ohio. The Broncos will meet No. 3-seeded Miami in the semifinal round, then face No. 1 ranked Bowling Green or Eastern Michigan University in the championship or consolation match.

Western took a 10-6 overall and a 3-1 Mid-American record into the championships.

Wheatley runs wild

While Gary Phillips was busy Saturday destroying Detroit Country Day for Robichaud, his former teammate Tyrone Wheatley (6) turned in a career best for the Wolverines of Michigan. Wheatley, who led Robichaud to a Class B state title a year ago, scored two touchdowns on nine tries to help U-M bury the Wildcats of Northwestern, 59-14, on Saturday. Above, Wheatley is greeted with an open arm by an unidentified Wildcat. The Wolverines are one-victory away from clinching the Big 10 title and a trip to the Rose Bowl. Dolphins swim club dunks Barracudas for 3rd victory

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

The Dolphin Swim Club made it three victories in a row at the expense of the Barracudas, 216-192.

"We have a good team this season but we're still a few swimmers short of making a complete lineup," said Dolphin coach Randy Ferguson.

The Dolphins, sponsored by the Wayne Recreation Department, captured first places in the 200-yard medley relay in four divisions. The 10-and-under boys, with Kyle Scott, Nathan Wensko, Jimmy McPartlin and Jason Harden won in 3:18.3; while the 11-12 boys, thanks to Drew Scott, Steve Barber, Jason Garlough and Clin Nemeth touched in at 2:46.1 for their victory.

Wayne also placed first in the medley relay with Greg Barber, Josh Law, Matt Ferguson and Tony Smith in the 13-14 boys division (2:12.0) and the girls, 13-14, also were first with Sybil Henderson, Jill McPartlin, Erin West and Melissa Becker (2:23.2).

Wayne's 11-12 boys lineup in the 200-yard freestyle relay earned a gold when Ron Hoeft, Drew Salt, Adam Salt and Scott Barber were clocked in the winning time of 2:48.7.

Wayne also produced a pair of double winners with Jimmy McPartlin, who won the 50-yard butterfly (36.6) and the 50-yard freestyle (31.6). Sybil Henderson took the 100-yard butterfly in 1:18.9 and the 100-yard freestyle in 1:05.2 for 11 and 12-year olds.

Other gold medalists included Erin West, in the 13-14 age group for the 50-yard butterfly (38.2); Matt Ferguson, in the 100-yard butterfly (1:12.0); Kyle Scott, in the 25-yard freestyle (19.9); Jason Garlough, in the 50-yard freestyle (29.3); Greg Barber, in the 50-yard freestyle (28.4); Jim McPartlin, in the 50-yard freestyle (32.5) and Tim Farrell, in the 100-yard freestyle (1:00.4).

Earlier, Wayne turned back Flat Rock Swim Club and also defeated the Willow Run Flyers, 298-254.

Dolphin swim officials said that they are looking for boys, eight-and under, boys and girls, nine and 10, and 13-14 year old girls to join the swim club. If you're interested and reside in the city of Wayne or Westland and will be attending Wayne Memorial High School, please telephone 595-2244.

Practice is at 6 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the high school pool.

Trenton favored to win swim title

Undefeated Trenton will be the team to beat at the 1991 Wolverine 'A' Conference women's swimming and diving championships.

The championships will be decided tonight and tomorrow at Wyandotte Roosevelt High School.

Diving semifinals are slated for tonight, while the finals for both the diving and individual events will be staged Friday.

Two of the local teams - Belleville and Wayne Memorial

-taking part in the competitions are expected to grab their share of the league medals.

Belleville has Jennifer Snure, a versatile and veteran swimmer who is an outstanding freestyler. The Tigers also should do well with Kristin Curtis.

Wayne's Dana Walls could turnout to be the surprise of the evening.

Scoreboard mix-up costs Salem regional berth

By KEVIN LITWIN
ANP Staff Writer

The combination of a good Adrian football team, some questionable officiating, and an apparent confused scoreboard operator caused Plymouth Salem to be eliminated from the Class AA playoffs last Friday night at Adrian High School.

The Adrian Maples (8-2) defeated the Rocks, 24-19, to advance to the Region 2 playoff final at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night against Ann Arbor Pioneer (8-2) at Adrian High School. Salem finished the season with a 7-3 record.

"I'm very proud of the way the kids played this season," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "They gave everything they had all year long."

The game started looking like a classic defensive confrontation between two well-prepared, hard-hitting football teams. The Salem front four of Hugh Blake-Thomas, Bob Smith, Tim Galda and Allen August kept a high-powered Adrian offense in check in the opening quarter, causing fumbles, recording sacks and blocking a field goal attempt. The score at the end of the first quarter was 0-0.

"We just kept coming off the ball hard in the first quarter, and our front line got a lot of help from linebacker Agron Ujkaj," said Blake-Thomas. "We really clogged up the middle, so they had to start going to the outside."

Early in the second quarter, Salem punter Chip Wadowski had a punt blocked deep in his own territory by Maples tackle Enrique Salazar, and defensive back Derek DeLand fell on the ball in the end zone for an Adrian touchdown. The extra point was blocked, and Adrian led, 6-0.

Salem senior running back Ed Gundry ran the subsequent kickoff back 65 yards to the Adrian 28.

"I got the ball on the kickoff and immediately saw a big hole open up," said Gundry. "I cut left, and took off. I remember their kicker getting blocked by Agron Ujkaj, but there was a fast guy in pursuit of me that tackled me around my ankles."

A few plays later senior quarterback Pete Zantop galloped 17 yards into the end zone, tying the game. The extra point was blocked, and with eight minutes remaining in the second quarter the score was 6-6.

Adrian took the ensuing kickoff at their own 18, and senior quarterback sensation Mark Arbaugh orchestrated an 82-yard drive that culminated with him throwing a 16-yard touchdown pass to DeLand. The two-point conversion failed, and the Maples led, 12-6, at halftime.

Salem got the ball at their own 33 to start the second half, and marched 67 yards for a touchdown, led by the rushing of Leon Hister, Dan Burke and Zantop. John Truskowski kicked the extra point, and the Rocks led, 13-12.

But Adrian got the ball at their own 48 following the kickoff, and Arbaugh guided his team down the field with a mixture of pin-point passing and well-disguised misdirection running plays. Senior wingback Matt Kennedy ran the final two yards of the drive to put the Maples back on top. The two-point conversion failed, and Adrian led at the end of the third quarter, 18-13.

Salem began the fourth quarter with the ball at their own 40, and on the first play of the quarter, Zantop threw a screen pass to Burke who rambled 60 yards to the end zone to once again give the Rocks the lead. The two-point conversion failed, and Salem led, 19-18, with 11:49 left in the contest.

Adrian started their next drive at their own 33, and quarterback Arbaugh once again marched his team down the field. He ran the last four yards of the drive himself, and with 6:30 left in the exciting, see-saw game, the Maples led, 24-19.

Salem started their ensuing drive at their own 35, but with 4:30 left in the game they turned the ball over to Adrian on downs at the Salem 42 after a questionable no-call by the referees on a possible pass interference play on fourth down.

The Rock defense stiffened,

Plymouth Salem's Tom Moshimer barks out some bits of advice to his players. Moshimer and the Rocks saw their dreams of reaching the Class AA regional playoffs shattered Friday night by a stubborn Adrian team that refused to quit. though, and Blake-Thomas came up with a huge sack of Arbaugh with 2:38 remaining, and Adrian was forced to punt.

Salem took over at their own 23 for the final, climactic drive of the night, and after two negligible running plays and a timeout, Zantop completed a key, 16-yard, third down pass to tight end Alfonso Hysko to keep the drive alive.

Zantop then completed a 7-yard pass to split end Pat Martinez, and Hister rambled 11 yards to the Adrian 41. After an incompletion, Zantop fired a pass to fullback Rob Shepley who took it to the Adrian 22 with a minute to go.

Zantop then passed to Martinez at the 15 yard line with 49 seconds remaining, and Salem called a second timeout.

The next play was a razzle-dazzle maneuver with Zantop pitching to running back Gundry who in turn passed down the field to Hister at the 7 for a first down.

Zantop then threw an incomplete pass to stop the clock, and Dan Burke took a handoff up the middle to the Adrian 4. Salem called a last timeout with 20 seconds left on the clock. Zantop ran the ball to the 2 yard line, then quickly set his team as the seconds ticked off and referees hurriedly got the ball ready for the next play.

Zantop looked at the scoreboard which read third down, and purposely threw the ball out of the end zone to stop the clock with 0:08 remaining. This apparently set up a final, fourth down call that would ultimately decide the game.

But the referees stepped in and claimed that Zantop had actually thrown the ball on fourth down instead of third, even though the scoreboard clearly indicated that it was third down. Confusion reigned for a minute, but the referees made the correct decision in favor of the hometown Adrian team. The Maples took over on downs, and ran off the final eight seconds for the 24-19 win.

"The whole game I was looking at the scoreboard whenever I needed to know what down it was," Zantop said. "Before the last play there was a lot of confusion and screaming on the field, so I looked at the scoreboard to see what the down was. It read third down, so I just threw the ball away to stop the clock. I never looked at the sideline marker official because there was so much activity going on over there that I probably wouldn't have seen him anyway."

Players and fans from both sides agreed that it was a hard-fought, emotional game that no team deserved to lose, but the Salem players couldn't help but feel bitter about the final outcome.

"I think both teams played well, but Adrian got some lucky breaks from poor officiating," Blake-Thomas said. "The refs were really rude to us during and after the game. I'm very angry and upset that our season had to end this way."

"We could have probably played better, but the referees really seemed like they were against us," Zantop said. "I know that sounds like an excuse, but the head ref seemed like Mr. Adrian out there. There was an obvious intentional grounding call on Arbaugh that he didn't call, and a couple of no-calls on pass interference plays that weren't called either."

"The refs were telling us to shut up whenever we questioned calls," Ujkaj said. "I specifically remember that one of them told us after the game to go back to where you belong."

Coach Moshimer, who didn't wish to comment on the officiating, had nothing but praise for his team after the game.

"It's a disappointment to end the year this way," Moshimer said. "But my guys have nothing to be ashamed of. They played hard all season. We had a great year, and I'm very proud of them."

1992 Probe introduced

New for the 1992 Ford Probe lineup is the Probe LX Sport option, which features a rear-deck spoiler, performance tires and 15-inch aluminum wheels. The LX comes standard with a 3.0-liter 140-horsepower V-6 engine.

"The Probe has been a major success for Ford since it was introduced as a 1989 model," said Ross H. Roberts, Ford Motor Company vice president and Ford Division general manager. "Anyone who has ever been behind the wheel of a Probe has experienced the unmistakable feeling of finely balanced design and engineering performance."

All 1992 Probe models - GL, LX and GT - will be offered in two new "tropical" colors, Calypso Green and Bimini Blue.

The Probe GL offers a standard 2.2-liter, 12-valve, electronically fuel-injected four-cylinder engine.

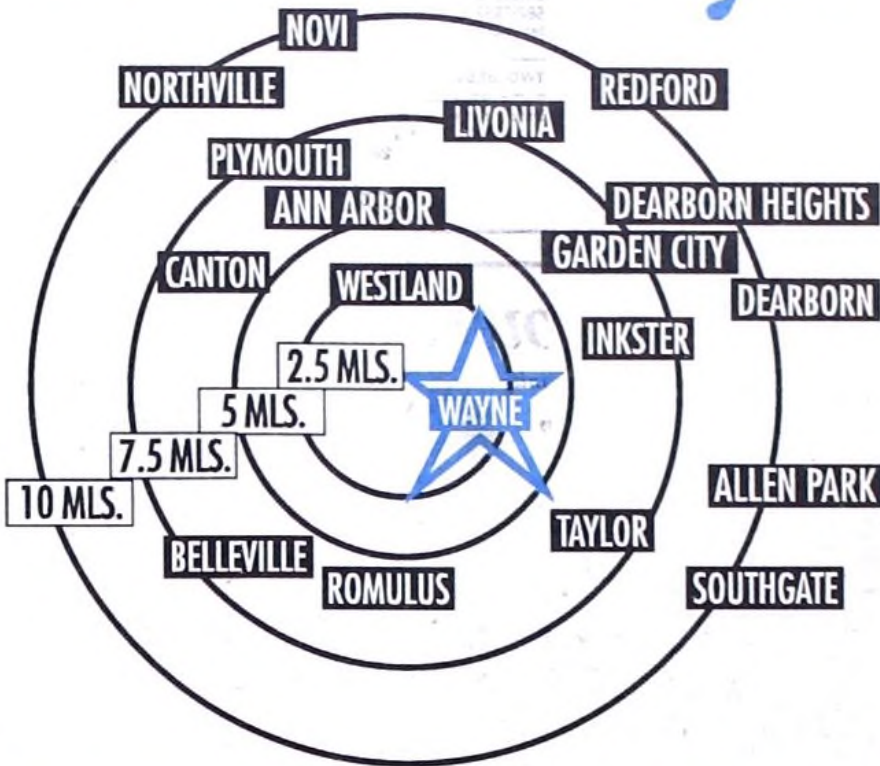

An anti-lock brake system can be added to the standard LX model four-wheel power-disc brakes. Inside the Probe LX, the driver's seat has manual adjustments for tilt, lumbar support and side bolsters.

The 1992 Probe GT maintains a high performance image with a 2.2-liter, electronically fuel-injected, turbo-charged I-4 engine which is coupled with a five-speed manual or an optional four-speed automatic trans-axle. The GT suspension features special sport-tuned performance components plus a computerized Automatic Adjusting Suspension. The power-steering system is electronically controlled by a microprocessor which, in response to vehicle speed, varies the amount of power-assist to match the driving situation.

The GT has four-wheel power disc brakes with an optional computer-controlled, anti-lock brake system help prevent braking-induced wheel lockup.

The Probe, introduced as a 1989 model, was an instant hit because of its aero design, crisp handling and excellent performance.
